Coaching the Developing Athlete

taking your developing athlete to the next level

IFAC & the Developing Athlete

For 2011 we have increased the number of practical workshops, covering all areas of athletics. Naturally, there are several practical workshops and seminars covering the development aspects of coaching athletics as well as the pathway towards elite performance.

Our event specific clinics have been designed to cover coaching events at every stage of athlete development. Vern Gambetta and Kelvin Giles will host a number of practical workshops focusing on the fundamentals, which are particularly relevant to developing athlete. A number of seminars address the issues of coaching at development and taking athletes to the next level.

You design your IFAC programme to suit your coaching needs. There are a number of practical workshops, seminars and keynote speeches highlighting the importance of development and to help you take your developing athletes to the next stage.
